PASTORS CORNER

Dear Parishioners,

Tuesday of this week, February 11, is the Memorial of Our Lady of Lourdes, and also the World Day of the Sick. Sickness is something that affects all of us at one time or another. In the Gospel, the sick often come to Jesus in great numbers to be healed of their infirmities. Jesus healed the woman who was afflicted with hemorrhages for twelve years and had spent all her money on doctors. The doctors could not help her, but Jesus healed her affliction in an instant (see Mark 5:25-29). Jesus cured Simon's mother-in-law, the centurions slave and many others.

Lourdes, France is a place of pilgrimage, especially for the sick. The Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to St. Bernadette in 1858 at the grotto in Lourdes, and the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes soon became a destination where the sick would come to bathe in the waters and find bodily or spiritual healing. Because Lourdes is known as a holy place where many miracles of healing have taken place, the feast of Our Lady of Lourdes is an appropriate day to be designated "World Day of the Sick." February 11 was designated as "World Day of the Sick" by St. John Paul II in 1992, calling it a "special time of prayers and sharing, of offering one's suffering for the good of the Church and of reminding us to see in our sick brothers and sisters the face of Christ, who by suffering, dying and rising, achieved the salvation of mankind."

Often when people are afflicted by illness, they withdraw from the community of the church and become isolated. They may be confined to home or the hospital or a care center. Maybe they do not want to be around others, or are unable to have visitors. But they remain an important and valued part of our Christian community and of our parish family. The sick, especially those confined to home, remain connected to the community through the sacraments – especially Holy Communion brought to them by ordinary and extraordinary ministers of the Eucharist.

We frequently pray for the sick in the Prayers of the Faithful at Mass. And the priests will give the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick for the healing of body and spirit to the sick upon request. I always want to respond to any request for this sacrament as promptly as possible. I only ask that sick persons or their family members inform me of the need for the sacrament and keep me informed about the condition of the sick person. On the World Day of the Sick, I want to assure all those who may be ill and suffering that you are not forgotten! May God Bless you All!

Your Pastor,
Msgr. Stephan Moloney

5th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Let your light shine before others, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven." MATTHEW 5:16

The generosity of being a good steward of your gifts has a positive effect on people and it is contagious! Good works encourage more good works. Let your light shine! Be careful to recognize that God is working through you and don't put yourself above the people you have been called to help.

Today, we recognize the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of St. Andrew and the adult leaders who are mentoring these Scouts in their dedication to Scouting, their duty to God, and commitment to their family and communities.

The Scout Law says that a "Scout is Reverent" and Scouts of all ages promise to do their "Duty to God" when reciting the Scout Oath. A Scout is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion. The Boy Scouts of America "maintains that no member can grow into the best kind of citizen without recognizing an obligation to God."

Any boy between the ages of 5 and 18 is invited to join the Scouting movement. The only requirement is a desire to learn and a spirit for adventure! Contact Hal Epler at chriscakes4u@gmail.com to learn more about the scouting program for boys in 5th-12th grades. Contact Matt Studer at matt@studercomputer.com to learn more about scouting for boys in K-4th grades.

Ring in the new year!

I'm happy to announce that our new handbells and choir chimes have arrived! This newest addition to our parish music program is the result of the generosity of the many donors who raised the necessary funds in just a matter of days this past December. What an accomplishment! Thank you for your kindness!

So where do we begin? Who can be in a bell choir? How do you play them? How much musical skill is needed? What if I don't read music? Which bell has my inscription inside its handle? These are just a few of the many inquiries that have come my way in recent weeks. To begin to address some of these topics, there will be a "come and see" opportunity for interested adults, on Wednesday evening, February 19, at 7:00 p.m. in the parish hall. This evening will offer a very basic introduction to the handbells (and choir chimes) and how they are played. Those in attendance will be able to see the complete sets of bells and chimes, and (for those who wish) there will be a brief opportunity to try your hand at ringing. The evening will also include a "Blessing of the Bells." This gathering is not in any way a "performance" as all of us (including me!) have much more to learn before we get to that point, but hopefully, each of us will gain a little more information so we can discern how this choir (or perhaps multiple choirs) will begin to come together in the weeks and months ahead. (This first session is for adults only, but there will be future opportunities for our parish youth to learn more about the bells and chimes as well.)

Who should attend? Any adults who are interested: donors, potential bell choir members, those who are just curious to see what this is all about! There is no obligation to play the bells or to become a member of the bell choir just by attending this gathering....but you may find that you would really like to!

If you have questions, please contact me at (614) 451-1839 or via email at plortz@standrewparish.cc I hope to see many of you on the 19th!

MARRIAGE MATTERS

Mother Teresa has said, "Peace begins with a smile." The way to a peaceful marriage is paved with smiles! Start with one from the first moment you see your spouse; even if it has been a rough day. A smile says, "We're in this together," creates a space for sharing, and becomes an antidote to any resentment that can poison your Marriage.

SCHOOL AND ATHLETICS

St. Andrew Athletics is seeking a new head track and field coach*Attention, St. Andrew parishioners and parents,

If you are looking for a rewarding way to volunteer your time for St. Andrew, the school's track and field program is seeking a new head coach. As the current head coach, for the past 7 years, I am stepping down. Two of my three children have graduated from St. Andrew and all of them have been a part of the track and field program. It is now time to plan for the next generation of leadership. I will stay on to be the assistant coach, as will several of the current assistant coaches until you have recruited your staff. The current staff is also willing to train the new head coach and new assistant coaches if needed, so there is no experience necessary. The track and field season is held from March through May, with no activities during the Easter holiday. The weekly commitment consists of three weekly 1½ hour practices until the diocese track meets start, then there are only two 1½ hour practices per week. There are only 5 track meets and they are always on a Saturday, no weekday competitions. This is your chance to make a difference in our St. Andrew community by helping our track and field athletes continue to grow their successful program. It is also a unique opportunity to coach your children, boys, girls or both in any grade from 4th through 8th, although it is not a requirement to have children in the program. You will also, as I have, make lasting friendships with your fellow coaches and others around the diocese. You might even be the spark that ignites a future Olympian. Please send an email to me at standrewtrackandfield@gmail.com if interested. God Bless and GO VIKINGS! – Joe Ryan

CELEBRATE TOGETHER
WORLD MARRIAGE DAY

Here are eight ways to express gratitude for the gift of your marriage and to let the light of your married love shine out in your community!

- Light a candle at dinner, and reminisce about your wedding with your spouse.
- Is there an area of compromise in your relationship? Give a little extra today, without expecting anything in return.
- Find an opportunity to praise or lift up your spouse in front of others, especially extended family.
- Dig up a couple photo that brings warmth to your heart, and give it a prominent place in your phone, office, or your home so that you are reminded of your spouse frequently. (Make sure your spouse sees it!)
- Take turns naming one blessing your marriage has brought into your lives, and close in a prayer of thanksgiving together!
- Reflect together: "What does a holy marriage look like for us?" Then ask each-other this question, "How have you seen me grow since we got married?"
- Text or email another couple you know, with words of prayer and encouragement.
- Do you know anyone who could benefit from the gift of your marriage? Think about someone you know who wants to get married eventually, or a couple in your life who is struggling. Pray for this specific person or couple together, and ask the Lord what next step you should take.

"Christian marriage, like the other sacraments, whose purpose is to sanctify people, to build up the body of Christ, and finally, to give worship to God, is in itself a liturgical action glorifying God in Jesus Christ and in the Church. By celebrating it, Christian spouses profess their gratitude to God for the sublime gift bestowed on them of being able to live in their married and family lives the very love of God for people and that of the Lord Jesus for the Church, His bride."

Anointing of the Sick

The phone rang one evening. The caller was the relative of a parishioner who was near death. They said something to the effect of, "Father, I'm really sorry to bother you so late. The time is coming. Could you, if it's not too much of an inconvenience, stop by for a minute?"

Of course! Attending to the dying is one of a priest's most important duties. By virtue of ordination, priests happily celebrate the sacraments, including, prior to Vatican II what was referred to as the "last rites," which bring so much grace in trying times. Because of its name, it was assumed that it was the Sacrament of the dying. When someone was dying, the priest was called at the last possible minute to administer the Sacrament. If the person caring for the sick waited too long, the sick person sometimes died in a state of mortal sin without receiving the Sacrament of the Sick, including having his confession heard. Now that the Last Rites is promoted as the Sacrament of the Sick, it encourages anyone who is seriously sick to call upon the priest in order to receive the Sacrament. This is in harmony with the words found in the Bible where it says,

"Are there any among you sick? They should call for the elders of the church and have them pray over them, anointing them with the oil in the flame of the Lord" James 5:14

Before answering the question of when to call a priest, though, let's discuss what's meant by "last rites." People seem to know a priest should be called for "last rites" when someone is dying, but they're not sure what that means. Remember that Jesus gave us seven sacraments: Baptism, Confirmation, Eucharist, Confession, Anointing of the Sick, Holy Orders, and Matrimony. Each of these sacraments gives us grace, God's help, for a particular situation in life. When one goes to Confession, for example, and the priest says, "I absolve you from your sins..." sins are forgiven. Anointing of the Sick also has its effects. It "imparts consolation, peace, and strength and unites the sick person, in his precarious situation and his sufferings, with Christ in a profound way. For many people, the Anointing of the Sick brings about physical healing. But, if God should decide to call someone home to Himself, He gives him the strength for all the physical.

When one receives the Sacrament of Anointing, one is placing himself or herself into God's hands and asking for God's healing. "God I place myself into your hands to be healed if it be your will, or to be open to whatever the next step is in my life." What a beautiful moment where one acknowledges that he or she is not the master of his or her own destiny and asks God for help. And God gives his healing grace to us. So, perhaps the greatest thing about this sacrament is that one never knows exactly how God will bestow his healing grace upon us. One result of this sacrament is the forgiveness of sins, which frees our minds and brings us peace. There are also spiritual benefits. For one who is dying, this means helping to prepare a person for death. For the living, this can mean feeling close to God. Also, for the living, we believe that this sacrament can have real physical healing as well if it is in God's will to do so. I can personally attest to physical healing that I have seen given through this sacrament. But again, the idea of the sacrament is that we place ourselves into God's hands and open ourselves up to His healing presence, however, and whatever that might be.

As a result, we can receive this sacrament over and over throughout our lives. Anyone who is going into the hospital for any procedure can receive this sacrament. In such a case, one's sins are forgiven and also, we use a beautiful prayer at the end of the anointing to pray for the doctors and nurses who will be caring for the person. So, when should a priest be called? My advice is to make that call when a loved one is "beginning to be in danger," but don't wait until the person can no longer speak, think clearly or swallow. It's best to receive the graces of all the so-called "last rites," including confession, anointing, and Holy Communion, before death. If that's not possible, such as when death seems to be coming very quickly, don't hesitate to call a priest immediately and he will do what he can.

Going through a serious illness or the dying process is difficult. The end of life is the devil's last chance to tempt us before we face Jesus Christ as our judge. We need all the help we can get! Don't hesitate to call a priest when things get serious, but call sooner rather than later. Not only do we not always know when exactly that will be, but with fewer priests, it's not always possible for a priest to be present at the moment of death. Then, there's disappointment both in the case of the family because the priest couldn't be there at the moment of death, and by we priests who see it as a lost opportunity to receive God's healing grace.

So, don't be afraid to ask the priest to be anointed whether you are going into the hospital or feel the need to receive God's healing grace. It doesn't take very long, we priests are happy to do it, and its benefits are endless.
